FEATURES

ENERGY LONG RACES with Beta-Alanine is a specific energy bar for athletes, recommended for providing energy in solid form, before and during training. The ENERGY LONG RACES bar with Beta-Alanine has been developed to offer an important energy supply and spread over several nutrients, provides Beta-ALANINE¹, therefore it is suitable for longer outings and more demanding endurance activities. It offers a fast and lasting energy supply. The ENERGY LONG RACES bar with Beta-Alanine is without added fats, is easily digestible and easily chewed. It has an excellent flavour, and maintains its characteristics even in critical situations. ENERGY LONG RACES with Beta-Alanine is Gluten Free therefore also suitable for people with celiac disease or gluten intolerance. Beta-Alanine¹ is a non-essential amino acid fundamental for the synthesis of Carnosine, a dipeptide present in muscle in high concentrations. Carnosine is made up of L-Histidine and β -Alanine, which represents the limiting factor for muscle synthesis. The right amount of Carnosine in muscles helps to buffer the lactic acid produced in the muscles during high-intensity and extended exercise.¹ Beta-Alanine supplementation is useful to allow a regular synthesis of Carnosine
